

Luther College High School in Regina, Saskatchewan Canada is seeking a full time English teacher, duties commencing August 2014.

Luther College, established in 1913, is a historical, independent school with its origins in the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Canada. It is a liberal arts, university preparatory high school committed to providing, "Quality Education in a Christian Context". Luther College has on average 450 students, 100 of which live in our full service dormitory and many are international students. The school's education program is informed by the Lutheran excellence of scholarship, freedom of inquiry and a faithful seeking after truth.

The school's chief educational goal is to prepare students for university. Faculty is expected to commit to this by maintaining a strong command of their subject areas and by instilling lifelong learning skills in students.

Central to preparing students for university is our I.B. (International Baccalaureate) program. Luther was the first school in Saskatchewan to become an I.B. school. We are interested in teachers with I.B. knowledge and/or experience. For more information about the I.B. program, please visit www.ibo.org/

Luther is an ecumenical school, rather than a confessional institution seeking converts to Christianity. Students are opened to a wide array of religious viewpoints, but never coerced to adopt one. Thus, "Christian context" does not mean exclusivity or proselytization. Students and faculty are encouraged to develop spiritual understandings and to engage matters of faith and religion in an open, academically accountable environment. All are prompted to think critically about what they believe and why they believe it, and to celebrate and respect the beliefs of others.

Most importantly, Christian context at Luther is a description of the way we want to interact with each other on a daily basis. Generally, we strive to be a respectful and generous community, and one that forgives each other. We conduct ourselves with the belief that there is purpose and hope in life; God has a plan for each one of us and has given gifts for us to develop and use to serve others. We strive to model Christ-like behavior, but acknowledge that we fail often and must, therefore, live by grace.

Faculty members are asked to contribute to the school's co-curricular life by coaching, advising or leading one or two activities, as mutually negotiated with the school's administration. They are also asked every six weeks or so to supervise the cafeteria, or gymnasium, or library.

Teachers at Luther are expected to attend Open Houses, Information Evenings, and other major school events.

All teachers and students are asked to attend daily chapel. Chapel is typically 20 minutes and takes many forms from spiritual, to educational, to entertaining. The school's chaplain coordinates the chapel program. Teachers, students and outside guests often serve as guest speakers.

Teachers at Luther College are given considerable professional latitude. Provided provincial curricula accountability standards are met, faculty are free to choose their evaluation/assessment methods, teaching styles, class expectations and discipline measures. Teachers may mete out purposeful homework, failing grades and zeroes as long as they have sound pedagogical reasons for doing so.

Salary and benefits are commensurate with the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation Agreement.
